Anna Kaplan
Producer / Project Manager

Anna Kaplan has been involved in film and television production for the last 8 years. Working for BBC Documentaries, ITV Factual and Granada Productions in the UK and with CoxKnight Productions, Corner Store Films and the Academy-Award winning Melodrama Pictures in Australia, her experience ranges broadly across highly successful television documentary, drama and independent film.

As a producer, production manager and coordinator, Anna has worked on commercial drama, social justice documentaries, music videos, formatted television and independent film projects that have been critically acclaimed and screened internationally (My Brother Vinnie, Mary & Max, Grandpa's Games, Anthem, Tripping Over, I'm A Celebrity, Get Me Out of Here, Hilltop Hoods, Dissection...).

Since 2006, Anna has been working with David Vadiveloo and Community Prophets to deliver multi-media story-telling training programs to marginalised young people and communities. Anna's role with Community Prophets ranges from producing larger film projects such as the Aurukun documentary series and the landmark Sydney street drama "Burn" to project management of training and capacity building programs in remote communities.
